KANISHKA WHISKY LIST

SINGLE MALTS

Speyside

Speyside homes nearly half the whisky made in Scotland and over the years the flavour of this wonderful dram has changed from the traditional lighter, sweeter style with hints of honey to the big and bolder Sherry cask filled drams which are richer and more profound.

Highland

This vast area of Scotland means that its whiskies come in many shapes and forms, the northern whiskies tend to be fuller with cereal notes as opposed to the southern whiskies with characteristic notes of fruit but tend to be drier. The Eastern highlands offers a combination of both the fruitiness of the north with the dryness of the south and the west does it their way with hints of smoke and peat to set its self apart from his neighbours.

Lowland

The most gentle of whiskies come from the lowlands, these peaceful drams tend to be more delicate and floral. We are starting to see some of the closed distilleries from the Lowlands slowly re open as many were famed for their outstanding qualities, Today some are even starting to look at peat and casks to enhance those softer notes taking these whiskies to a different level.

Islay

Well known as being the powerful whiskies with a lot of peat used to enhance the whiskies. Some use this sparingly to create softer versions with less potency. Some have found a good balance between the peat and sweetness but maybe try one of these whiskies with food cooked on the tandoor to see how that peatiness works with the food.

Island & Campbeltown

Island whiskies are each to their own varying in characteristics from some have costal expressions with the hints of sea air others heather becomes abundant with hints of smokiness. The terroir of the land shows through in these whiskies where it be from the land sky or earth makes these whiskies truly unique. Campbeltown are often known for their dry pungent whiskies, this area is slowly coming back after the US prohibition affected the area.

Rest of the world

The rest of the world has caught onto the world of whiskies either from American with the softer, sweeter style of whiskies or from Japan whether they use their own malt but use Scottish techniques to ensure quality. Then to India whether the local conditions speed up the maturation process as much as 4 times the speed to create stunning whiskies with bags of flavour compare with a single malt to see the difference.

21yr Port Wood

A trio of different styled whiskies from one distillery to show the way that wood imparts such flavour onto the whisky. The Oloroso & American Oak impart sweetness to 12yr Double Wood, the rum casks on the 14yr old allows for toffee notes and smoothness. Then the ever impressive 21yr Portwood which adds refined smooth silky mouth feel with fruitiness with hints of raisins.

The idea of 'smoke' in drinks has been an intricate part of drinks for a long period of time. Whether it's cooking the agave plant to add the unique flavour of smoke create mexcal or the gentle peaty smoky notes of a single malt it is interesting to see how these liquids vary so much in flavour due the one common component of smoke.

Chicken Malai Tikka with Talisker 10yr

The light smokiness of the Talisker compliments the smoke created from the tandoor cooking. The softness of the marinade is picked with the soft saltiness works well the spices.

Prawn Puri with Dalwhinnie 15yr

We then have the prawn puri which will go well with the softer style Dalwhinnie 15yr. The soft floral notes complete the natural sweetness of the seafood.

The powerful lamb kebab will be well matched with the smoky Triple Wood with underlying spice and fruit tones to complement this red meat dish.
